Lady Coyotes anticipate exciting season

The 2017-2018 Jones County Lady Coyote girls basketball team is (L-R): Brianna Smith, Molly Dowling, Savannah Krogman, Emily Flynn, Emily Jacobs, Lilli Moore, Aunya Avila and Liz Fullen.

The Lady Coyotes can't wait to get this season started. The girls have been having some open gyms since the volleyball season ended.

The Lady Coyotes have everyone but one girl back from last year's team. Seniors are Savannah Krogman, Molly Dowling and Emily Flynn. Sophomores are Emily Jacobs, Lilli Moore, Liz Fullen and Aunya Avila. We have one freshman Brianna Smith.

Our goals are to work as hard as we can during the season, continue to improve and to improve on last years record. Hopefully we can stay healthy and be playing our best basketball at the end of the year.

We would like for everyone to come to the games and support the Lady Coyotes this season.

The Lady Kougar basketball team is looking forward to improve upon last year's 11-11 season in which they played for the district championship. Many athletes enjoyed successful fall sports season with a Sweet 16 birth in volleyball and state competition in cross country.

The Kougs return two seniors and four juniors all of whom had significant contributions at the varsity level along with strong sophomore and freshman classes. Four seniors will be missed from last year's squad, but young ball players are looking forward to the challenge of getting to compete at the varsity level. The Kougars had multiple all conference and Southern Plains All Tourney team selections, and 4 of 5 varsity starters return.

The summer saw the Kougars put in excellent committed time at weekly leagues, individual and team camps, and hosting a sportsmanship tournament as well as a youth camp. The team improved this summer finishing 14-3 in South Dakota action and 16-8 overall getting to play against teams from five different states. Players also have been working to be inducted into the splash sisters shooting club by shooting at least 5,000 shots in the offseason.

With some great regional and area talent on the Kougars schedule hopes are high that the team can work together to push their potential and compete at the highest level possible. Faith comes to town for a double header on December 9 and Dupree on the 15. The Longhorns have had the Kougars number the past few seasons and last year handed the Kougars a 60 point loss. Summer league saw some growth from the Kougars as they played Faith to an overtime one point loss. Dupree returns many strong players with experience that should look to compete well early in the season.

Once again thank you for the great support for this program and please come out and provide some energy for the girls as they work to represent the school and community with maximum efforts.

Eat, sleep, play basketball

The coaches and players are ready to get on the court for another exciting Kougar boys basketball season. Back again on the coaching staff are my two assistant coaches Karl Ireland and Chris Byrd. They are a tremendous help and do an outstanding job of coaching our young athletes. It helps greatly to have these two coaches continue to build our Kougar basketball program.

The boys put in a lot of time in the gym this summer. Many were involved in a team camp at the School of Mines, a seven week summer league in Rapid City, a skills camp in Wyoming and finished the summer with a successful round robin camp at Rapid City Christian. It was fun to see the progress of the players throughout the summer and we will continue to build on that growth as the season continues.

Our numbers are up this year after a decline the past few years. We have 4 returning starters, 3 seniors and 1 junior, from last year's team. Experience will be a key for the Kougars. We have a good nucleus coming back but will need more depth in our rotation this year. That is where I see our sophomore boys really stepping in and competing. They have played high school basketball since they were in 8th grade, so they will be heavily relied on in practice and games. I am also very excited about our incoming freshman. We have good numbers in that class, they are hardworking and it will be fun to watch them play as the season moves forward.

To be successful on the court, it takes a total team mindset and effort. Keeping a team preforming at their best is a difficult challenge all coaches face. I know we want to make it a year that all the players will enjoy.

The Kougar basketball team would like to thank the community for all the support they have given to us for many years. We hope to see you at the games cheering for everyone in a positive way.

Good luck to all the teams this year. Have a safe, fun and injury free basketball season. Go Kougars!

Training tips to be successful

1. Match Your Abilities With Your Interests
You have to enjoy your training program or you probably won't stick with it long enough to see results.

2. Simplify
Training is largely about consistency and focus.

3. Avoid Overtraining
Allowing your body to rest is as important as building strength and endurance.

4. Variation
Vary your workouts, pace, and intensity to enjoy a well-rounded fitness routine that is less likely to result in burn-out or plateaus.

5. Be Flexible
If you have to miss a training day, don't worry, just continue on your training plan.

6. Set Realistic Goals
Be honest about your current fitness and your potential.

7. Be Patient
It takes time and consistency to build up fitness and performance.

8. Be Consistent
Even if you're starting with very short workouts, it's important to do them on a regular basis, several days a week.

9. Nutrition is Critical
Eating well and hydrating goes a long way to improve your ability to exercise and train.

10. Use Proper Equipment
No matter what sport or exercise routine you do, you need to make sure your equipment and footwear fit properly.
